Italian Forests Small.

The total area of Italy, including the islands of Sicily and Sardinia, consists of about 71,500,000 acres, which is equivalent to the combined area of the states of New York and Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Jersey, says the Forestry Magazine, of Washington. Within this comparatively small area a population of 36,000,000, more than equivalent to one-third of this country, is congested. Of the total area of Italy only 17.64 per cent is now covered with forests.

Plain Hats Top New Paris Coats

In our grandmothers' days it took years to make a fashion—now one season sees a new style established, writes a Paris fashion correspondent. The cycle of fashion turns so rapidly nowadays and in its revolving reveals so many types of clothes that every woman has plenty of opportunity of seeing her own particular taste represented. There is not a fancy in dress that we may not some time or another indulge to the fullest. Last season the woman who loved gay headgear might satisfy her taste for bright colors and quantities of trimming to her heart's content; this season she who prefers more subdued hats will have an equal opportunity of shopping for her favorites with the certainty that fashion has provided them for her in abundance.

The smartly dressed woman wears a black hat this winter, and let us thank heaven and the modistes that there is at least one article of dress that we may buy with the comforting assurance that we are being economical—the black hat is an economy, for it may be worn with a frock of any color. Following closely on the heels of the fashion for black hats are those of tete de negre and new copper color known as cuivre or chaudron. The great demand, however, is for black hats.

Velvet Favorite Material for Sailors. Panné velvet is the favorite material from which to evolve medium sailors with shaped brims and smartly draped crowns, while plush and satin are draped into round turbans, some of which are set to a shaped head band to give the effect of a little brim. These are more becoming than the brimless turban. A summer favorite that continues in popularity and will not hesitate to make its appearance wherever smartly dressed women are congregated on cold, crisp winter afternoons is the large Chantilly lace hat. Sometimes, as a concession to Jack Frost,

New Wraps Have High Collars

Practically all of the new wraps have very high, neck-enveloping collars. Little more than a woman's eyes are visible if she wears a hat with these high collars. Separate fur collars with matching muffs are shown in this high style, for wear with afternoon dresses, while tailored suits have chin-enveloping fur collars as part of their trimming. It is quite remarkable how the slender silhouette is emphasized by these chin-enveloping collars. Their use gives a distinctly new outline to the figure in a very clever manner. The low-lying collars, so long a feature of our clothes, would, if used with the widened hip, tend to give the entire figure a broadened appearance. As this would be anything but attractive, we have the high collar.

Nearly all of these standing collars are made of long-haired pelts, notably fox and "chevre-de-mongolie," as the fur of the now fashionable Mongolian goat is called. Pure white fox collars made in the standing style are worn with elaborate afternoon dresses of black velvet; cross fox collars trim dull metal crepe dresses and even the

It has a velvet crown above its lacy brim, although it frequently is entirely transparent.

A pronounced millinery vogue is the use of monkey fur as a trimming, this fur, to a very great extent, taking the place of egret and ostrich. It is used alone and also combined with ostrich feathers. Black hats having ostrich feather motifs in the shape of leaves show these feathers alternating with long-haired patches of monkey fur. While this combination perhaps does not sound interesting, it looks well.

The draped beret still continues to be tremendously popular with all Paris milliners. It is almost entirely without trimming, but the crown is so beautifully draped that no trimming is needed. The head band is usually folded to form a clothlike brim; sometimes it is made to appear like a visor. These hats are usually of black velvet or silk, although metal cloth is used for some elaborate ones. The dark ones embroidered in metal threads are very smart. These latter, however, are so expensive that one feels it an extravagance to buy them. Yet any woman at all gifted in draping a fabric could easily make one herself. The embroidery is nothing more than a running stitch done in a fine gold or silver thread.

While some of the Paris milliners strongly advocate the veil-trimmed hat, others do not show the veil at all. Vails have always been favorite trimmings in the hands of Maria Guy; with them she achieves beautiful effects. Recently she developed an oriental turban from a huge tulle scarf printed in two colors, one end of the scarf forming the turban, while the other end draped around the neck or over the shoulders. Suzanne Talbot also makes these turbans from big tulle scarfs, but uses the scarfs in solid colorings and borders them with ostrich or silk looped fringe.

priceless silver fox is shorn of his head and tail to make these straight, round upstanding collars; all of which goes to show how far fashion reaches. Even the beasts of the forest must conform thereto.

Corresponds With Lining of Coats. A Paris fashion which bids fair to become immensely popular is that of having a dress made to correspond exactly with the lining of the coat or mantle with which it is worn. The scheme is carried out in both afternoon and evening toilettes. This plan of having a dress to match every coat lining or a coat lined to match every dress bids fair to become one of the marked extravagances of the season.

One of the prettiest developments of this idea is a simple crepe de chine dress made almost in lingerie style and worn with a full length coat lined with the same crepe de chine that forms the dress. A smart costume seen recently consisted of a brown duvetyn coat, cut on very simple lines, and a lovely copper-colored crepe de chine frock which matched the lining of the coat.

FLU CAUSES SIX DEATHS IN CHICAGO

The weekly bulletin of the health department issued yesterday, shows that six persons died in Chicago last week as result of influenza. Dr. W. A. Evans, health authority and writer of Chicago, last week predicted that the world would again be swept by an epidemic of influenza far more severe than last year, when thousands of lives were lost. One thing is sure, that is, the warm weather this fall has kept the epidemic down, but as colder weather approaches, influenza is liable to break out any time. Dr. Brady says: "No one has as yet discovered a positive method of diagnosing early cases of influenza from alleged 'colds.'" The utmost care should be taken, therefore, not to catch cold, for colds weaken the resistance to influenza germs.

Doctors seem to agree that it is much easier to prevent influenza than to cure it. The secret of preventing influenza is to keep the germs from lodging and developing in the respiratory organs—the mouth, nose and throat. No one should be allowed to breathe in your face because the germs are often transmitted in this manner.

Influenza can be prevented; last year's results prove that. As a preventive for flu, Turpo has been a pronounced success. Turpo is an effective germicide, combining the old-fashioned remedies of turpentine (which has always been known as the best home germicide), camphor and menthol in a pure mineral base. These ingredients have long been recognized as effective germicides, as well as having really wonderful qualities in relieving colds and congestions. Snuff a little Turpo up the nostrils several times a day, and the flu germs will have little chance of getting a lodging and breeding place. Many physicians and hospitals use and recommend Turpo.

Prepare now. Buy a thirty cent jar of Turpo, while your druggist has a supply on hand, and use as directed. Last year druggists could not supply the demand. Remember that Turpo is a preventive, not a cure for influenza. Take care of yourself.—Adv.

Alaskan Petroleum.

The petroleum produced in Alaska is derived wholly from a single patented claim in the Katalla oil field, according to the United States geological survey, department of the interior. The old wells on this claim and the refinery were operated as usual in 1918. Two new productive wells were also drilled in the Katalla field. The total production in 1918 was somewhat larger than in 1917.

Doubts About Teachers.

The high school freshmen were trying to get the Latin teacher, who was their best beloved of the faculty members, to chaperon them on a hay ride. But she was decided in her refusal. She said she would take them on a picnic or to a movie but never on a hay ride.

"But they are lots of fun," pleaded one youth. "Did you ever go on one?" The teacher answered in the affirmative.

"Oh, won't you take us," he insisted. "Won't you even take us if we all promise to keep our arms folded in our laps?"

A Missouri Woman Could Not Sleep

Trenton, Mo.—"For many years Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been my only medicine. For a long time I doctored for women's weakness but instead of getting better I became worse. It seemed to affect my back; it would pain me so I could not sleep at night. I got very weak and nervous, could not do anything. My husband bought me a bottle of Favorite Prescription and the one bottle did me so much good that I continued its use until I was well and hearty. Quite frequently now I take a bottle and it has kept me in good health all the time."—MRS. CHAS. KENNEDY, 1559 Cedar St.

For Those Entering Womanhood

Carthage, Mo.—"My mother used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was so well pleased with it that she gave it to me when I was entering womanhood, and I have used it off and on all my life for ailments for which it is intended to be helpful. I have given it to my daughter for the same ailments. It has always helped us promptly and satisfactorily."

"I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for a bad cough and slight asthma, and was pleased with the way it benefited me."

"I have used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for constipation and biliousness all my life. SAD DAY FOR CAPITALISTS

Even the Bloated Monopolist at the Newspaper Desk is Victim of Vicious System.

What are we coming to, and whither are we drifting? Alas, these be perilous times, and sadly out of joint. Whoever it was let loose the "got to have more money" bacillus started something there seems to be no stopping. It has spread like an epidemic; is not confined to any particular class of people or limited to any particular age. Witness this over the telephone to us yesterday morning from our own daughter:

"Hello, that you, daddy?"
"Yes."
"This is Marjorie."
"Well?"
"You're going away tomorrow?"
"Yes."

"Well, I just called you up to let you know that before you go you'll have to increase my wages."

We promised to do so, and then said with a sigh: "These are certainly sad days for us capitalists."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
